The idea of angels or divine beings watching over individuals during sleep has deep roots in religious texts and cultural traditions across the globe. In Judeo-Christian traditions, angels are often depicted as messengers and protectors, with numerous references to divine guardianship during sleep.

- Biblical References: The Book of Genesis describes angels ascending and descending Jacob's ladder, symbolizing divine communication and protection. Additionally, Psalm 91:11 states, "For he will command his angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways," emphasizing divine guardianship during vulnerable moments like sleep.

- Ancient Egypt & Greece: Concepts of protective spirits and guardian deities watching over sleepers are prevalent, with figures like the Egyptian 'Ka' and Greek 'Keres' symbolizing protective entities.

These religious narratives reinforce the idea that sleep is a time of vulnerability but also an opportunity for divine protection, often depicted as angels on one's pillow or nearby.
